

Michael A. Thomas, Esq.
Board Member

Michael A. Thomas is a retired United States Navy Commander and a Bronze Star recipient. He is also a managing member of Seraph Chemical Company, LLC, a zero-waste, waste-to-energy company.

Cmdr. Thomas is a serial entrepreneur with deep experience in for-profit, not-for-profit, and government endeavors. In addition to his military service--where he saw combat in Kosovo, Iraq, and Afghanistan--he served as senior advisor to U.S. Senator Richard Blumenthal; vice president of external relations for Achievement First, a ground breaking charter school network; and co-founder/chief financial officer of Harbinger Technologies Group. He is a board member of the Hopkins School Committee of Trustees, the Connecticut Veterans Housing Assistance Fund, and the Connecticut Department of Veteran Affairs (a gubernatorial appointment).

He is a graduate of Yale Law School and Wesleyan University.
